

I will never forget what happened on St. Patrick's Day...

My school had given everyone the day off to celebrate the occasion. I think everyone was happy to have a break, even if it was only for the day. It was a nice morning so I decided to go on a walk. As I walked through town I admired the beautiful decor. There were lots of different decorations up that looked brilliant, there were shamrocks and rainbows with pots of gold at the end strung up everywhere. Almost everyone was wearing something green and, in my opinion, it all looked fantastic. As I was walking along I accidentally bumped into someone and fell over. I was about to apologize when the person started to speak. "Alex?" they questioned, "Is that you?" The person sounded like a man, I looked up, "Logan!?" I exclaimed. "The one and only he replied." grinning down at me, he offered me his hand, I took it and let him help me to my feet "What are you doing here?" I asked once I was standing, "Weren't you going to visit your cousins?" "Change of plans." He said simply. "What about you?" he questioned "Didn't you say you weren't allowed to go out today?" "I snuck out," I said simply. "Wait, You snuck out!" he exclaimed, looking at me in shock. "Hey, calm down," I said quickly, "It's not that big of a deal." Logan just stared at me, "What if your dad finds out?" he questioned, "He's not going to find out," I said firmly, "What'll you do if he does?" Logan questioned. I sighed, "I'll tell him the truth," I replied simply "Just be careful," Logan said with a sigh. "Logan, when am I not careful," I said, grinning up at him. "I swear you're going to be the death of me," Logan muttered under his breath. I just laughed. After that, we both decided to walk around town together, chatting and enjoying ourselves like usual, we also got lunch in a nice cafe. Afterward, we decided to head to the street where the parade was to be held, I was so excited. I glanced over at Logan and saw him smirking, amused by my antics. I grinned up at him. He noticed my grin and looked away quickly, embarrassed for some reason. Then the parade started, it was awesome, there were so many creative floats, and everything looked brilliant, once the parade was over, Logan and I decided to go back to his house, where we hung out, watched movies, ate popcorn, and simply enjoyed each others company, Logan and I ended up falling asleep on the sofa together, all in all, I enjoyed spending the day with him, and while most people wouldn't consider the day 'unforgettable', I had a feeling I wasn't going to forget it anytime soon...
